

Executive Promotions Announced at Johanson Transportation Service - Logistics Division

Fresno, CA – April 7, 2019 – JTS (Johanson Transportation Service), a leading third-party supply chain solutions provider, announces the following promotions in their Logistics division executive management team.

Craig Johansson will be President – Johanson Transportation Service, Logistics – a division of Johanson Transportation Service.

Randy Gabardi will be working alongside Craig in his new position of Vice President of Pricing & Technologies – Johanson Transportation Service, Logistics – a division of Johanson Transportation Service. He will manage customer bids, carrier contracts, and negotiations for the Logistics Division and ensure JTS' cloud-based TMS technology is competitive in the marketplace.

JTS plans to open a new logistics operations office in the Fort Worth, Texas area. It will be modeled after the Orlando, FL office, allowing them to have an operational presence equidistant from the other two Logistics offices on each coast, and it will eventually be used to launch sales efforts in the Texas market. In his new role, Gabardi will be based in the Fort Worth office. His move, and the opening of the new office, will be on hold until the national health crisis has settled down.

"I am pleased to congratulate Craig and Randy on their new roles. I also am proud of the entire Logistics team for their hard work and dedication over the years, which has allowed us to take this exciting expansion step," says Larry Johanson, President/CEO of JTS.
