Johanson Transportation Service Announces Non-Perishable Division Changes

Fresno, CA – April 24, 2019 – JTS (Johanson Transportation Service), a leading third-party supply chain solutions provider, announces the following employee changes in their Fresno Non-Perishable division:

Miguel Beltran has been promoted to Manager, Non-Perishable Freight. He has been with JTS for 16 years. Beltran will be taking over for Lise Ruiz, who is retiring this spring. Senior VP of Non-Perishable Freight, Bruce Negri, says, “We wish Lise the best in her new chapter of life and are deeply grateful for her 24 years of strong leadership in the Non-Perishable division. Miguel is a great asset to the company and will do an awesome job as the new division manager.”

Josh Haire has been promoted to the position of Carrier Procurement Lead. Haire, a 13-year veteran of JTS, recently earned his Certified Transportation Broker Certificate from the TIA. The exam tests the knowledge of participants on brokerage, ethics, contracts, pricing, legal and regulatory requirements, as well as the latest trends in transportation and business management.

Melanie Velasquez, who also has a CTB designation, has been promoted to Customer Service Lead. In her new position, she will be quoting, following up and working directly with customers as well as overseeing other customer service members to ensure excellent service. She has been with JTS for seven years.
